MEET OUR COMMUNITY PARTNERS

Mission:

To reduce hunger and food waste by providing critical food transportation, grocery site support, food warehousing, and distribution—reaching the food insecure today and every day.

Highlights:

- Collect and distribute essential perishable and non-perishable groceries and food staples for individuals and families in need
- Work with vendors to distribute free meal vouchers to those who qualify
- Help rescue surplus food and redirect it to where it's most needed

Mission:

To educate communities about African American heritage while promoting cultural preservation, leadership, and economic empowerment—uplifting families, youth, and the values of justice, integrity, and unity.

Highlights:

- Provide cultural education and awareness through events, workshops, and community outreach
- Support youth development and economic empowerment initiatives
- Promote collaboration across diverse communities to preserve and celebrate African American traditions

ABOUT THE EVENT

est. 2018

Launched as a FREE experience in Wing Park in 2018 featuring House Music DJs and has progressed to feature Grammy winning artists & hometown favorite!

Wing Park is a beautiful venue featuring a built-in stage and seating area. Attendees can bring their own chairs and blankets to enjoy the event in comfort. Don't miss out on the vendors, offering food, merchandise, and services from community organizations that enhance the local area and employ individuals. Restroom facilities are conveniently located near the stage.

The We in the Basement Music Festival was started by Andre Hodges, known as DJ Dre, who is the founder of We In The Basement, a collective of DJs that brings house music and various vibes to locations everywhere. DJ Dre has a rich background in events.

As a member of the IBEW Local 134 in the Construction industry, DJ Dre aims to use the "We in the Basement" Music Festival to connect resources, opportunities and music to the community for a free listening experience. From the "Black and Brown Get Down," to "The Community Get Down", this is an event celebrating a truly vibrant community!
